Shrewd with Food

Recycling & Management

Ward provides a dedicated food waste collection, removal and recycling service for catering and hospitality businesses. By diverting your food waste from landfill you can reduce your costs and improve your environmental credentials.

Food waste generated by commercial and industrial businesses in the food sector amounts to around 3.1 million tonnes, with a value of over £5.1 billion.

Pubs, hotels, restaurants and trade outlets rely on Ward for an accredited, reliable and efficient food waste management service, delivered at the right price.

Our aim is to recycle every last piece of material and dispose of waste as efficiently as possible, to reduce environmental impact and landfill tax. Our services include regular food waste collection and recycling to be turned in to biogas.

Ward is committed to being at the forefront of food waste management in the UK's catering and hospitality sector.
