Anti-Slavery Policy

This policy supports our commitment to limiting the risk of modern slavery occurring within our own business or infiltrating our supply chains or any other business relationship.

The policy applies to all persons working for or on our behalf in any capacity, including employees, directors, officers, agency workers, contractors, consultants, apprentices and any other third party representative.

We expect all who have or seek to have a business relationship with the company to familiarise themselves with this policy and to act at all times in a way that is consistent with its values.

This policy will be used to underpin and inform any statement on slavery and human trafficking that we are required to produce further to the transparency in supply chain requirements of Section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (MSA).

What do we mean by modern slavery?

Modern slavery can take many forms. It is a complex and multi-faceted problem. The MSA covers four key criminal activities:

- Slavery: where ownership is exercised over an individual
- Servitude: involves the obligation to provide service imposed by coercion
- Forced and compulsory labour: all work or service, not voluntarily performed, which is obtained from an individual under the threat of force or penalty.
- Human trafficking: involves arranging or facilitating the travel of another with a view to exploiting them

Other forms of modern slavery, which we will not tolerate, but are not specifically referenced in the MSA include, but are not limited to:

- Child labour: whilst not always illegal in the jurisdiction in which it takes places, child labour involves the employment of children that is exploitative, or is likely to be hazardous to, or interfere with, a child's education, health (including mental health), physical wellbeing or social development.

All forms of modern slavery have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another in order to exploit them for commercial or personal gain and amount to a violation of an individual's fundamental human rights.

Tackling modern slavery requires us all to play a part and remain vigilant to the risk in all aspect of our business and business relationships.

How we seek to embed our anti-slavery policy in practice

To underpin our policy commitments, we aim to implement the following measures:

- Will conduct risk assessments to determine which parts of our own business and which of our supply chains are most at risk from modern slavery so we can focus our efforts on those areas most 'at risk'.

Version: 2	Page 1 of 3	Date: May 2022

- Where appropriate, as informed by our risk assessment, we will engage directly with new suppliers in respect of our anti-slavery policy in order to gain a proper understanding of the measures they have in place to ensure that modern slavery is not occurring within their own businesses
- All employees must immediately notify Line Manager / HR Manager of an suspected conflict or issues surrounding modern slavery or human trafficking. Employees and suppliers are encouraged to raise any possible concerns at any time. Employees are protected under our Whistleblowing procedure
- We aim to encourage openness and will support anyone who raises genuine concerns in good faith under this policy, even if they turn out to be mistaken. We are committed to ensuring no one suffers any detrimental treatment as a result of reporting in good faith their suspicion that modern slavery of whatever form is or may be taking place in any part of our own business or in any of our supply chains. Detrimental treatment includes dismissal, disciplinary action, threats or other unfavourable treatment connected with raising a concern. If you believe that you have suffered any such treatment, you should inform the compliance manager immediately. If the matter is not remedied, and you are an employee, you should raise it formally using our Grievance Procedure, which can be found in the company handbook.

Responsibility for this policy

The board of directors has overall responsibility for this policy and in ensuring that the Company complies with all its legal and ethical obligations.

The HR and Compliance have the primary day-to-day responsibility for the implementation of this policy, monitoring its use and ensuring that the appropriate processes and control systems are in place, and amended as appropriate, to ensure it can operate effectively.

All line managers are responsible for ensuring that those reporting directly to them comply with the provisions of this policy in the day to day performance of their roles.

Communication and employee awareness training

The line manager will ensure that all staff receive adequate training on this policy and any supporting processes applicable to their role. This is normally given at induction.

In addition staff receive training on the broader issues of modern slavery so as to assist them in appreciating the extent of the problem of modern slavery and the identify individuals/areas of the business that may be at risk from practices of modern slavery.

Breaches of this policy

Any breaches of this policy will be taken seriously and dealt with on a case by case basis.

The breach of this policy by an employee, director or officer of the company may lead to disciplinary action being taken in accordance with our disciplinary procedure. Serious breaches may be regarded as gross misconduct and may lead to immediate dismissal further to our disciplinary procedure.

Everybody to whom this policy applies will be expected to co-operate to the fullest extent possible in any investigation into suspected breaches of this policy or any related processes or procedures.

If any part of this policy is unclear, clarification should be sought from the HR or Compliance Department.

Status of this policy

This Anti-slavery policy will be reviewed by the Company's board of directors on a regular basis.

This policy does not give contractual rights to company employees and we reserve the right to alter any of its terms at any time. We will notify applicable parties in writing of any changes which may affect them.

Environment and Sustainability Policy

Donald Ward Limited trading as WARD is one of the largest independent recycling companies in the UK. The Management and all who work at Ward are committed to the protection of the environment and prevention of pollution.

We are committed to ensuring that our activities are compliant with environmental legislation and that non-legal compliance obligations are met and wherever possible exceeded.

We consider our responsibility to the environment to be a fundamental priority alongside the organisations production targets. Therefore, we have implemented an environmental management system which satisfies the requirements of ISO14001:2015 and are committed to its continual improvement.

The aim of the Environmental Management System is; to provide a framework for the continued and ongoing improvement in environmental performance. This is achieved via the setting and reviewing of specific environmental objectives and targets. These are communicated throughout the organisation and all staff are committed to their achievement.

Our work in metal and waste recycling actively benefits the environment by ensuring the supply of recycled materials. This reduces the depletion of natural resources and other negative environmental impacts which may arise from the use of virgin materials.

Attention will be paid to the quality of materials purchased, processed and supplied by the organisation to minimise environmental impacts that may occur during, production, transportation and storage. And to increase potential for reuse supporting a circular economy.

Requirements are placed upon contractors and suppliers; that they operate in accordance with environmental procedures and aspire to achieve an equal standard of environmental protection and compliance.

The participation of all employees, at all levels is actively encouraged and promoted via a system of ongoing training, communication, and appraisal of working practices.

This Policy and associated obligations and responsibilities will be communicated to all employees and contractors working for or on behalf of the organisation.

This Policy is available to the public and interested parties upon request and will be subject to periodic review to ensure its continued suitability.

Health and Safety Policy Statement

Statement of Intent

The health, safety and welfare of our employees, and others affected by our operations, are the primary objectives of Donald Ward Limited. As a business we are committed to preventing injuries and ill-health in relation to the work we undertake, and commit to fulfil the legal, and other, requirements relating to these activities.

Our behaviours, both positive and negative, have a profound effect on our overall performance. It is our intention to promote a positive safety culture, whilst learning from negative events, and communicating the corrective actions to continually improve our Health & Safety performance and management systems.

The following aims underpin our commitment to continually improve and are clearly set out in this policy:

Management System & Performance

We will implement robust management systems which will have appropriate resources, effective structures, and governance. These systems will be set standards to monitor the health and safety performance of our organisation. Through effective analysis, we will feed back our findings to the business and influence decision making at all levels.

Elimination of Hazards for a Safe & Healthy Workplace

We commit to eliminate hazards within workplace through risk assessment and we will prioritise, plan and complete any corrective actions required to reduce risk to an acceptable level. We will ensure everyone is provided with the information, training and knowledge to be able to carry out effective risk assessments. This will ensure that the working environment is safe both before work begins and during the activity for our Employees and anybody who could be affected by these operations.

Consultation & Active Participation on Health & Safety Matters

We commit to consult with our workforce and encourage active participation in health & safety matters. A health & safety forum including workforce representatives will periodically meet and discuss health & safety matters. We will work collaboratively with our stakeholders and supply chain partners, sharing innovative ideas and approaches that will benefit all parties in achieving our shared goals

Visible Leadership

Our management and supervisory team will lead by example and promote safety & health throughout the organisation with positive reinforcement of safe behaviours, challenging unsafe acts and conditions. Interactive dialogue with all employees will be both open and responsive to address any concerns or issues raised.

Keeping Everyone Healthy & Safe

We will create a culture where everyone is encouraged and engaged to immediately challenge unsafe situations, conditions or behaviours, or those that can cause harm to health. Where our people identify unsafe events, they will be able to intervene free from reprisal to assist with making things safe, report and where required request resources to resolve any potential harm. We will provide training and instruction to ensure our people are competent and are able to understand the health and safety risks within their working environment.
